

Transforming education in Medway.

In February this year, the Strood Academy will begin work on a £29million development that will transform its campus in Carnation Road. Designed by Nicholas Hare Architects the new campus will feature outstanding, state of the art, facilities that will deliver significant benefits both for our students and for the wider community.

The Strood Academy which specialises in business, enterprise and mathematics opened in September 2009. It is jointly sponsored by the University for the Creative Arts and Medway Council. This development will be the first new secondary school building in Medway for many years. It marks also an important stage in a programme of transformation that has, in its first year, seen the Academy deliver a sharp rise in examination results.
